

DL50™ desktop letter opener

Simplify and speed up the opening of your incoming mail.

Designed for convenience, the DL50 letter opener is ideal for any office environment, as it helps your staff open a wide range of envelopes with ease. The compact design fits on your desktop or in a central office location. Simply plug it in and you're ready to become more efficient.

Quickly opens mail

As fast as you can feed it, the DL50 letter opener automatically pulls envelopes through to the stacker. It can open approximately 20 letters per minute.

Clean, efficient operation

Your envelopes are cleanly opened, the letters stacked and the paper waste sent to an easy-to-empty tray.

Sturdy design

The opener has a powerful motor that drives the blades and pulls envelopes with ease.

Fits in small places

Designed to be small enough to sit on the edge of your desk and light enough to move from space to space. You can even store it away when you're not using it.

DL50™ desktop letter opener

Opens most types of envelopes

The letter opener can handle a wide range of envelope types, regardless of the correspondence inside.

Protects the contents

A small sliver of paper is removed from the top of envelope, which ensures that the contents are preserved.

Quiet operation

It's incredibly quiet and appropriate for any office environment. In fact, the letter opener remains in the off position until you are ready to feed an envelope.

Safety is number one

The cutter that opens the envelope is securely housed within the device, thus ensuring the safety of you and your office staff.
